

Compromise Meeting.

St. Louis, June 4.
A compromise meeting, without distinction of party, was held at the Court-house last night. Henry S. Geyer was called to the Chair, and stated the object of the meeting.

A series of resolutions was reported, declaring that the people of St. Louis, without distinction of party, felt a deep and unswerving devotion to the Union, and that they will adhere to it in spite of the fanatics of the North, or hotspots of the South. That although there is a difference of opinion as to the details of the several propositions of the Senate Committee of Thirteen, they yielded their hearty support to the measure as a compromise, and that if the principles of the compromise are faithfully carried out, the union of the States will be more firmly cemented.

The resolutions were carried by acclamation. The proceedings were ordered to be forwarded to our Representatives in Congress.

Dr. Garner, just returned from the Plains, states that a difficulty had occurred between an advance party of California emigrants and a marauding party of Indians. A party of Indians attacked a small train and succeeded in running off 40 mules and horses. A young Potawatami followed and rescued a portion of the stock, and killed the Pawnee Chief, who had four white and nine Indian chiefs.

Brandeth's Pills.

Among the many evidences of a character undoubted, some of which have been made public, showing the wonderful efficacy of my pills in cholera, the following is worthy of the serious consideration of all who yet remain sceptical. I am confident that if the pills are taken in the early stage of the disease, or what is better, if the bowels are thoroughly evacuated by them repeated during the prevalence of the predisposing cause of cholera among us, that but few cases would occur, and of those that did not one per cent. would die.

B. BRANDETH.

Cholera.

IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE OF THE NEW YORK SUN.

Dreadful ravages of the cholera among overland emigrants to California—Suffering and sickness—Brandeth's Pills in cholera—Return of emigrants to St. Louis.

St. Louis June 6th, 1849.

MENSA BEACH I left New York city on the 15th March last, on one of a company of forty men, bound for California. On the 10th of April, we arrived at Independence, Mo. We were fortunate in making our arrangements at Independence, and left there in good health and spirits on the 19th April. Two other companies, one from N. Hampshire and the other from Western New York, left at the same time, we journeyed on in company for the first six days; after that we left them behind, as they had no team, which was bad travel.

The second week out we were alarmed at the appearance of the cholera, as one of our number was suddenly taken with vomiting, &c., &c., and such was the absence of mind; or fright, that before anything was done for him he was in convulsions, and died in a few hours after the first attack. The next day another was taken and one of our number, had laid in some of Brandeth's Pills on speculation, gave the patient a dose of nine pills, and in thirty minutes after five more, and he was saved. By this time the two other companies came up and joined us, and now the cholera made its appearance in earnest. The first day there were five taken, the next seven, and the third thirteen, and soon we had a hospital in the wilderness, and our only physician a cabinet-maker with Brandeth's Pills; and strange as it may appear, we only lost two others before the first taken and they took no less than 33 of Brandeth's Pills, I concluded to retain a home and two more of our company sold out with me and we retraced our steps to this place, companies that passed us lost many of their numbers especially here spirits and brandy were used and ludumum administered. All our men took was pills and some crated tea. I saw no less than 9 of a company by in one grave. The suffering of the men on the plains is awful.

Since I have been here, 8 more of our company have returned here, and among them three who had the pills. He sold out his pills to other companies at $1 per box; so he has not lost anything after all. We expect that our entire company will be here this week as we have had enough of California and Brandeth's pills to last us for a quarter of a century at least.

Yours truly,

PHILIP D. SCHAFER.

[As the above letter comes to us with a genuine name attached to it, and as the writer is known to us as a gentleman formerly a resident of New York, we would be acting unjustly if we deny its publication. This, however, we would have done had the letter not come, as it did, directly to ourselves as a matter of simple correspondence from a source we could not expect of any sinister motive. We would, in ordinary circumstances, be slow to publish correspondence containing anything either to the injury or aggrandizement of any party. Dr. Brandeth's pills are well known as a most excellent medicine but we must confess that we have hitherto been rather incoincidental as to the property of their use in cases of cholera. But this letter speaks for itself, and we publish it as a matter of duty, and without Dr. Brandeth being aware of its existence.—EOWSON.]
